If we need to use your Personal Data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

PLEASE NOTE THAT WE MAY PROCESS YOUR PERSONAL DATA WITHOUT YOUR KNOWLEDGE OR CONSENT, IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE ABOVE RULES, WHERE THIS IS REQUIRED OR PERMITTED BY LAW.

6. NON-PERSONAL DATA WE COLLECT FROM YOU

6.1. Non-Personal Data. Non-Personal Data means data that is not associated with or linked to your Personal Data; Non-Personal Data does not, by itself, permit the identification of individual persons.

6.2. Log Data. When you visit the Site, we automatically collect technical and statistical data about your visit, such as your browser type, internet service provider (ISP), referring/exit pages, operating system, date/time stamp, and/or clickstream data, the pages you visit and any search terms you use (“Log Data”).

6.3. IP Address. We also collect your public IP address when you visit the Site. We may use your public IP address in order to determine whether certain requests are fraudulent or frivolous and we may automatically cross-reference your public IP address with your domain name (usually the domain name of your ISP or employer). Because you may be visiting the Site from your personal residence (for example, because you are telecommuting), your IP address and any associated domain name are treated as “Personal Network Information” instead of Personal Data. “Log Data” does not include Personal Network Information. Although such Personal Network Information may be used to administer and maintain the Site and Services, it is not shared with any third parties, except as described below in the sections titled “Service Providers,” “Compliance with Laws and Law Enforcement” and “Business Transfers”. We will use Log Data for any purpose. PLEASE NOTE: DEPENDING ON YOUR JURISDICTION YOUR IP ADDRESS MAY BE CONSIDERED PERSONAL DATA. IN ALL SUCH CASES IT WILL BE ACCORDINGLY TREATED AS SUCH.

6.4. Cookies. We use many different cookies on our Site. If you do not know what cookies are, or how to control or delete them, then we recommend you visit aboutcookies.org for detailed guidance. Cookies allow us to identify and authenticate visitors, track aggregate behavior, and enable important website features. We use both session ID cookies and persistent cookies. A session ID cookie expires when you close your browser. A persistent cookie remains on your hard drive for an extended period, and we use that to identify you should you return to our Site and want to find information that you had started even if you are not logged in, or don’t have a user account. Session cookies are used to maintain your shopping state as you browse through our Site. We also contract with analytics services and third party affiliate services to collect similar information for specific purposes. The use of cookies by our partners is not covered by this Privacy Policy. Though you may disable cookies through your web browser, doing so may prevent you from taking advantage of some of our Site’s features. To opt out of these collection services, please see the section “Your Choices” below. The use of cookies by our partners is not covered by this Policy. To opt out of the services related to these cookies, please see section “Your Choices” below. Please note that if you block certain of these cookies, certain features of our Services may not work.

- Some of our cookies may collect your Personal Data. Specifically, Talkable may utilize uuid cookies, which may collect your first name, last name, email address, Custom Attributes, or IP address.

6.5. Web Beacons/Tags. We automatically collect aggregate anonymous information through web beacons. Website beacons allow third parties to provide anonymized, aggregated auditing, research and reporting for us.

6.6. Use of Non-Personal Data. We may also use your Log Data and Personal Network Information to: (i) administer our Site and Services for internal operations, including troubleshooting, data analysis, testing, research, statistical and survey purposes; (ii) improve our Site to ensure that content is presented in the most effective manner for you and for your device; (iii) allow you to participate in interactive features of our Service and Site, when you choose to do so; (iv) as part of our efforts to keep our Site and Services safe and secure.

6.7. Pixel Tags. In addition, we use “Pixel Tags” (also referred to as clear Gifs, Web beacons, or Web bugs). Pixel Tags are tiny graphic images with a unique identifier, similar in function to cookies, that are used to track online movements of Web users. In contrast to Cookies, which are stored on a user’s computer hard drive, Pixel Tags are embedded invisibly in Web pages. Pixel Tags also allow us to send e-mail messages in a format users can read, and they tell us whether e-mails have been opened to ensure that we are sending only messages that are of interest to our users. We may use this information to reduce or eliminate messages sent to users. We do not tie the information gathered by Pixel Tags to Personal Data.

6.8. Flash LSOs. When we post videos, third parties may use local shared objects, known as “Flash Cookies,” to store your preferences for volume control or to personalize certain video features. Flash Cookies are different from browser Cookies because of the amount and type of data and how the data is stored. Cookie management tools provided by your browser will not remove Flash Cookies. To learn how to manage privacy and storage settings for Flash Cookies, click here .

6.9. Google Analytics. We may use Google Analytics to help analyze how users use the Site. Google Analytics uses Cookies to collect information such as how often users visit our Site and Services, what pages they visit, and what other sites they used prior to coming to our Site. We use the information we get from Google Analytics only to improve our Site. Google Analytics collects only the IP address assigned to you on the date you visit the Site, rather than your name or other Personally Data. We do not combine the information generated through the use of Google Analytics with your Personal Data. Although Google Analytics plants a persistent Cookie on Your web browser to identify you as a unique user the next time you visit the Site and use Services, the Cookie cannot be used by anyone but Google. Google’s ability to use and share information collected by Google Analytics about your visits to our Site and use of Services are governed by the Google Analytics’ Terms of Use and Privacy Policy.

7. AGGREGATED DATA

After removing any information that would personally identify you from within the set of Personal Data, Personal Network Information and Log Data we collect from you, we may combine that information with information we collect from other users and customers (collectively the “Aggregated Data”) in order to improve the quality and value of Services and to analyze and understand how our Site is used. We may share Aggregated Data (after stripping of any information that would personally identify you) and Log Data with third parties for industry analysis, demographic profiling, and other purposes.

To block cookies, you can also browse the site using your browser's anonymous usage setting (called "Incognito" in Chrome, "InPrivate" for Internet Explorer, "Private Browsing" in Firefox and Safari etc.)

9. INFORMATION SHARING & DISCLOSURE

9.1. Service Providers. We may from time to time use certain third-party business partners, suppliers, and sub-contractors ("Services Providers" or "Subprocessors") to perform Site-related services (for example, without limitation, website hosting, maintenance services, database management, Web analytics, and improvement of our Site and Services. To learn more about internet-based advertising and consumer opt-out programs go to <https://aboutads.info/choices/> or <https://www.networkadvertising.org/choices/>. We do not operate or control these sites, and are not responsible for the opt-out choices available there.

10.3 California Consumer Privacy Act. For purposes of this Section 10.3 only, the terms "personal information," "collection," "sell," "business purpose" and "commercial purpose" have the meaning given to them under the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (the "CCPA").
